LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Friends,

One of my favorite Christmas memories is from my days as a shepherd in the children's pageant. Picture this: a cool robe, a towel tied around my head, and a crook—my very own prop! And the only instruction was..."Don't hit the other shepherds!"

But the best part was being part of the story alongside my Sunday School pals.

The children's reenactment of the Christmas story is a cherished tradition in many churches, and it's about so much more than just those adorable photo ops. It reminds us that the Christian narrative is alive! It's real—filled with real people, in real places, at real moments in history. Our faith isn't just a collection of ideas and doctrines; it's a vibrant story about community and connection. Each of us has a role to play!

This Sunday at 11:00 a.m., the children of Royal Oak First will bring this tradition to life with our annual Christmas Pageant. This year, we're changing things by presenting it on the Sunday before Christmas Eve, hoping to include more families who might be traveling.

Get ready for a contemporary twist! Our pageant will blend the traditional nativity story with elements from the beloved film "Toy Story," reminding us that our faith is truly "incarnational"—it takes shape right here in our world. So, join us at 11:00 a.m., or catch it online later. I promise it will lift your spirit. And my deeper hope is that it will create lasting faith memories for our young performers!

Christmas is almost upon us!

Grace and Peace,

Pastor Jeff Nelson
